ALBEMARLE EMC GENERAL MANAGER ELECTED PRESIDENT OF NCAEC BOARD OF DIRECTORS

HERTFORD, NC, APRIL 29, 2009 – Bradley V. Furr, Executive Vice President and General Manager of Albemarle Electric Membership Corporation, was recently elected as president of the board of directors for North Carolina Association of Electric Cooperatives (NCAEC).

Furr, who has been with Albemarle EMC for 11 years, was elected to his term during the association's annual meeting in Raleigh. The elections took place during the business session of the meeting on April 1.

Albemarle EMC is a member-owned electric cooperative serving more than 12,000 members in five counties.

NCAEC is a statewide association that has worked since 1943 to promote training, safety, education and legislative advocacy on behalf of electric cooperative members and the public. NCAEC programs serve the needs of their 26 member cooperatives, which are member owned, not-for-profit and overseen by a board of directors elected by the membership.

North Carolina's electric cooperatives serve 2.5 million people in 93 of the state's 100 counties.
